OLD ROCHESTER SCHOOL DEDICATED

The residents of the towns of Marion, Rochester and Mattapoisett toured the new High School last week for the first time. The expression most heard on the tour was "fantastic". This magnificent school is spacious, beautiful and furnished with the finest of educational, vocational and athletic equipment. It is certainly a school which should inspire much pride. In talking with people at the opening the only drawback that could be envisioned is the comedown it will be for the graduates when they start college. Most of the colleges that you can bring to mind cannot begin to compare, in building and equipment, at any rate, to this new high school.

On Sunday the dedication of the school was

AFS MEETING IN MARION

Twelve members of the Marion Chapter, American Field Service, met recently at the home of the chairman, Otis C. Severance, who presided.

After hearing the report of the chairman and treasurer, the meeting was opened to a general and informal discussion on the subject of obtaining a foreign student, under the AFS program, to attend the Old Rochester Regional High School for the 1962-63 school term. On the subject of trying to develop an over-all committee from the three towns, Mattapoisett, Rochester and Marion, it was felt that the time element involved might preclude the possibility of getting a student next year.

On a motion by Mrs. Isabel Talamo-Rossi it was voted unanimously to seek a host home in Marion, (the first requisite) using the money already contributed for 1961-62 by Marion residents.

Mrs. Kenneth Graham, corresponding secretary, was instructed to write to the AFS Central Office in New York for the latest rulings and supplies to proceed with this course. Mr. Severance was authorized to advise the Mattapoisett and Rochester residents with whom he met last year that the Marion chapter will be glad to go along with a three-town committee for future participation in the AFS program.

Mr. Severance said he wished to be relieved of the chairmanship because of the pressure of other activities. It was voted to have a nominating committee present a slate of officers at the next meeting to be held the first week in December. The committee appointed consists of Mrs. Graham, Mrs. William B. Macy and Mrs. E. Leslie Goodwin.

Finding it difficult to choose a night for a monthly meeting, the chapter voted to have the next meeting in the afternoon at the Old Rochester Regional High School, pending approval of date, etc. by the school authorities.

Dr. Frederick B. Chandler brought up the subject of student participation in the raising of funds for AFS programs of future years, and the Central office is to be asked for suggestions and materials in this connection.

Miss Lovicy Delano will continue as member in charge of finding host homes. It was voted that there should be at least two host homes
available to meet any unforeseen emergency.
Full information on the requirements of the Central committee for hosting a foreign student for the school term may be obtained by telephone, Marion 179-W, or writing to Miss Delano, Front Street, Marion.

The opium industry run by Mao is the principle source of drugs for international crime syndicates. The evidence is presented in this film that the American dollars from this foul traffic is used to finance riots and revolution all over the world. This picture is a solid indictment, if one is necessary, of a criminal nation. Senators Thomas J. Dodd and Paul H. Douglas are featured with explanations of the situation and what can be done to stop this Red China bid for membership in the UN. It is difficult to imagine this picture as controversial. However, one never knows. It's well worth the short time it takes to see it. This is information that every citizen should digest and act upon.

GOLDWATER SAYS BERLIN WALL COULD HAVE BEEN PUSHED OVER D.C.J., Presto Press

Senator Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) stated Thursday night that "we now know that the Berlin wall could have been pushed over and nothing would have happened". Since then, he stated, the President has made clear our determination to fight over our rights in Berlin. Since the President apparently now has decided to ignore his weakling advisers and is using his own judgment with firmness, the Senator said that he will support him strongly.

A capacity audience jammed the huge downtown theater in Providence, R. I. to hear the forthright Senator from Arizona as he spoke under the sponsorship of the Young Republican Club of Rhode Island. Senator Goldwater, knowing that he stood in a predominantly Democratic stronghold, remarked at the start, "I hope that there are many Democratic voters present. No doubt you have come to see my horns and tail". The chuckle from the audience was in amused confirmation of the Senator's hope. It was interesting to note that the majority of the crowd was both seriously interested in the Senator's thoughts and were young people.

In his first remarks Senator Goldwater spoke of his deep regret over the passing of the Speaker of the House, the Honorable Sam Rayburn. "I did not know him well," he said, "and although our principles are different, I had great respect for his ability."

The Senator said that there is now confusion about party principles. In both parties there is left wing, middle and right elements. "Conservative", he said, "is widely misunderstood." He explained that the conservative does not want to turn back the clock. Rather they would speed the advance of our country by applying the lessons of the past, learning from them and not repeating mistakes. He said that the Communists have never been stopped except in the rare instances when we have boldly used our power. For example, Lebanon and again in Berlin at the time of the airlift. When confronted by determined power he said that the Communists are stopped cold. He said that at the close of World War II air power replaced sea power as the controlling factor in the world. We had the power and failed to use it. This, he explained, is in sharp contrast to history. Portugal, then Spain, then England controlled the sea and in their time they used their power as a stabilizing force on the world scene. Political mistakes such as Berlin, military mistakes, both are beyond recall. We made them but we do not have to repeat them. "I am glad to see signs of change and I'll support the President", he said, "without those weak-kneed advisers."

Domestically he remarked that no country can continue to spend more each year than it takes in. The liberals in the drivers' seat have failed and left a mess. "Proof of this," he said, "is in the President's new and increasing concern for our credits and reserves." He recalled that all of the socialistic schemes following the depression of the 30's failed to work. "Only World War II stopped the depression," he said. Later more irresponsible liberal economic thinking caused run away inflation. The understanding and rejection of this failure has caused the young adult to turn to conservative policies and ideas. The great new interest in conservative thought is in our college students while a generation ago it was liberalism. The word liberal has been changed so that it now has lost its original meaning. While liberal once denoted a defender of the citizen's constitutional liberties it now means something quite different. So it is now the conservative which has taken over the mantle of defender of the individual and his constitutional rights and privileges. He said that many reforms are now needed to give our economy drive. It takes 18,000 dollars to create one job in modern industry and we must have millions of new jobs each year. We are now number 8 in growth rate among major powers. We need to legislate fast write-offs on new equipment for our industry so that modernization can take place. Modern machinery is needed to increase production to meet prices in the world market and to create the new job. Also, he said that tax reforms are needed to provide profits. Profits he said are far from the dirty word that they are painted. "In this country we discourage success." Profits are needed for expansion which require investment. It is significant, he said, that the countries which lead us in growth rate have very attractive write-offs on equipment for their industries and their industries have the latest equipment with its high productivity.

After his talk Senator Goldwater answered questions from the audience. Briefly, these are some of his views.

On Foreign Aid..It was a help to Europe after World War II. Particularly in Italy it stopped Communist advance. As far as undeveloped nations are concerned it would be far better to help them with tools and knowledge so that they can advance from the primitive to the modern using their own facilities and people.

Aid to so called neutrals...Favors help to those "neutrals" who are neutral while leaning toward us.

Peace Corps...Likes the idea. It may have great potential for help and good, particularly if the people are well trained and know the language of the people they are helping. Let's give them a chance to prove themselves.

Nuclear testing in atmosphere....Opposed to moratorium in the first place and would favor atmospheric test if needed for our safety and knowledge.

John Birch Society...People known locally in Arizona are good, patriotic Americans with high ideals. In some areas there have been unfortunate incidents and name calling but, however, no more than by the Americans for Democratic Action on the opposite side.

House Un-American Activities Committee... Congress must have knowledge in order to legislate. They are charged with the duty of protection of Americans against enemies both foreign and domestic. The only way to gain knowledge is to question witnesses. While abuses are possible and have occurred on rare occasions, the present committee, headed by Chairman Walters, leans over backwards to be fair to witnesses and always has. Thousands of witnesses have been questioned quietly and with no notice. Every American has the right and should use the privilege of protecting himself under his rights as guaranteed by the constitution.

Minutemen....At a press conference directly after returning from abroad, this question was put to the Senator. He said, "It is a great missile and I'm glad the Air Force has it." However, now he knows of the organization and has had time to study it. The Army of the United States, the Navy and Air Force are for our protection. In addition we have State reserve units. The Minutemen organization, armed and trained, could, on their own, decide to take action when none was wanted or needed. This action would be unconstitutional. We have enough protection, trained and organized by our government and that is where the responsibility belongs.

Severing Diplomatic Relations with Russia... I realize this is a lonely position the Senator said. It would do these things. It would serve notice to all nations of the world that we are finally going to make a stand against the Communists. The prestige that we gave Russian Communists by recognition is incalculable. It would also clear out the spy ring operated from Russian diplomatic headquarters in the U. S. Now in many cases we protect the spies while paying for their maintenance and transportation.

The standing ovation accorded Senator Goldwater at the conclusion of this meeting was a tribute to a political leader who stands up, states his position frankly and clearly and evades nothing. This is a rare quality on the modern political scene.

twelve in the school district total 733 pupils of which 263 reside in Marion, 324 in Mattapoisett and 146 in Rochester. Breakdown of the grand total number of pupils enrolled in grades
one through twelve, including special class pupils, shows that there are 631 pupils in Marion, 726 pupils in Mattapoisett and 351
pupils in Rochester.

The union committee studied the estimated cost of general control, which includes the salary of the superintendent of schools, salaries of clerks, telephone, and office supplies. Apportionment of general control costs was voted at last April's meeting of the committee to stand at 40% to Marion, 40% to Mattapoisett and 20% to Rochester. Actual pupil enrollment figures are in Marion 37.74 % of the total elementary enrollment, in Mattapoisett 41.23% of the total, and in Rochester 21.02%.

Two union school committee meetings are held each year, one in April and the other in November. Next meeting of this committee will be held in April 1962, or at the call of the chairman.

MARION ART CENTER PLAYERS IN COMEDY

The little Marion Theater of the Art Center Players rocked on its foundations last week with the delight of its play goers. The cast of "Send Me No Flowers" were handed some marvelous lines and they delivered with interest. Obviously enjoying their romp with this play, every one of the actors drew spontaneous applause from the audience for their characterizations at different points in the production. The stage crew deserves great credit for their effort. Since the play featured a series of day dreams, a separate stage was built on the side and enclosed in gauze. The private thoughts and dreams of the characters were seen here to effect. The use of lighting effects is so important in this little theater where light is not only special effect but curtain as well.

Aurora Anderson and Ted Babbitt, in the leads as husband and wife, were simply great as they delivered lines that everyone recognized as having a strangely familiar ring. The plot of the play revolved around hypochondriat Ted Babbitt as good old George Kimball who mistakingly prepared to meet death nobly. In this effort he drove his next door neighbor, played by Joe Burke, to drink and to eulogies; drove his wife into the arms of a prospective next husband, played by Dick Foren; and drove himself nearly into the ground glorified by a grave plot salesman played enthusiastically by Larry Brooks. The doctor was played by Dick Palamountain. It is quite impossible to send no flowers to "Send Me No Flowers". We laughed our heads off. The play and the Marion Art Center Players provided a
